

PARISH OF THE HOLY FAMILY - THANET

Moving In

At long last Father Joe has moved into the newly refurbished presbytery. It will be great to have him living on site and no more journeys back and forth from Ramsgate Father! Father Joe would like to thank all the parishioners who helped to make this day happen. Also, for the individual donations towards items needed in his new home. Chair, Parish Finance Committee.

NHS COVID-19 Track & Trace

We are encouraging parishioners to download the NHS Track & Trace App in order to check in when attending Mass and other church activities. If you would like some help setting up the App on your phone please pop into the office on Monday or Wednesday from 9am-1pm. If your phone does not support Apps a steward will take your details as usual.

Key Holders List

We are required by our insurance company to keep an up to date list of all keyholders for Parish premises. Please can you let the office know by telephone or email if you currently hold keys for either the church and/or hall. Thank you.

Collection Next Sunday: Apostleship of the Sea

The Apostleship of the Sea (AoS) is a Catholic charity supporting seafarers worldwide. They provide practical and pastoral care to all seafarers, regardless of nationality or belief. Port chaplains and volunteer ship visitors welcome seafarers, offer welfare service and advice, practical help, care and friendship. The AoS in Great Britain is part of an international network known to the maritime world of Stella Maris, working in more than 250 ports around the world. 90% of world trade is transported by ship, however the life of a modern seafarer can be dangerous and lonely. They may spend up to a year at a time away from home, separated from their family and loved ones and often working in hard conditions. The AoS relies wholly on voluntary contributions, and can only continue its work through the generous donations of its supporters, particularly this collection.

Facing the locals

Old Nazareth

by Fr Denis McBride C.Ss.R.

When people from obscure backgrounds suddenly emerge as important public figures, journalists and television crews often seek out the family and neighbours of the new star to discover what they think of the local hero. Mixed impressions are usually given: delight is shown, congratulations are forthcoming, surprise is admitted, polite disbelief is registered and resentment is uncovered.

In today's Gospel Jesus returns to his home place of Nazareth. This is not a social visit: like other towns in Galilee, Nazareth has to hear the Good News of the kingdom. When Jesus teaches in the local synagogue, many of the townspeople are astonished at the performance. They wonder at the origin of Jesus' teaching and the nature of his wisdom, as well as the miracles that are done through him. From the unanswered questions about Jesus' wisdom, the neighbours move to more familiar territory and focus on what they do know about Jesus. Whatever their wonder, they are not going to allow Jesus' wisdom to interfere with their memories of him.

Jesus' experience of rejection in Nazareth renders him powerless to do any miracle among his own people. This is an extraordinary statement about the human Jesus: people's lack of trust limits his ministry. Jesus is profoundly affected by the way people react to him. He is not a robot, programmed for flawless performance, indifferent to all responses. Distrust disables him. So he moves elsewhere, refusing to be enslaved by his failure to reach his own people.

And he never returns to Nazareth again.

The local prophet?

by James Gallogly

Celebrating a Service of Word and Sacrament in the Segregation Unit is an auspicious privilege. It is a reminder that the Good Shepherd will go to any length to be with his sheep. This member of the flock has strayed far from the path. By grace he knows this and welcomes any help that might lead to the narrow gate.

Any farmer, educator or parent knows that growing goes on out of sight. Chaplains know this too. Sharing the Eucharist in a very ordinary meeting room is a strange field. Yet the fertile ground of God's kingdom is so often beyond us.

That same communicant has continued to accept the support of God in his life. He has sustained growth in the Lord by accepting the demand to move away from the past into a new life. News of his rehabilitation is a glimpse of God's work where we might least expect it.

James Gallogly is a Catholic lay chaplain in a UK prison.

Loving Lord, you have the answers to my questions. Help me to listen and to take you seriously. Amen.

God's instrument

by Bridie Stringer

Today's reading from Mark's Gospel describes Jesus on a visit home and the fact that his old friends and neighbours think he has got above himself. He is, after all, just a carpenter albeit, it would appear, a wise one. I find the end of the account rather ironic. On what might have been regarded as an "off day" because of local opposition, he could only cure a few sick people!

I suppose that the lesson for us all is not to make assumptions about people because of their background, their appearance, or the way they speak. Holy wisdom can sometimes be found in children as well as clerics.

I am reminded of a conversation with a toddler some years ago who asked why the bells of the local cathedral were ringing. I told him that people were inside singing and saying prayers. He suggested that churches were places where God holds meetings. I agreed.

Bridie Stringer is a mother, grandmother and pastoral theologian.

"The world tells us to seek success, power and money; God tells us to seek humility, service and love."
